Specialist Educational Toy Retailer

Products that inspire, engage and stimulate

We are a specialist, independent supplier of quality educational toys, puzzles, games and puppets and are very proud of our unrivalled collection of creative, innovative and challenging products that are suitable for children from birth upwards.

WoZu is owned and run by two former teachers with over 55 years of teaching experience in primary and secondary education. We respect children as dynamic, natural learners and believe that children should be positively guided and supported through activities that develop confidence, imagination, empathy, pro-social behaviour, and a sense of achievement.

Our range of over 1000 quality products, has been gathered from around the world, to ensure that they match our aim to inspire, engage and stimulate. They are tried and tested to ensure children enjoy learning about themselves, relationships and their place in the bigger picture of home, school and community living.

Educational Resources

We also supply quality educational resources and toys to local authorities, schools, nurseries and child care establishments. These include an exclusive range of WoZu designed resources. For your convenience we have shown ex-vat prices for everything in the catalogue.

Quadrilla Twist and Rail Marble Run

£84.99 Ex-VAT £70.83 QD 10-13-00

Inter-connecting wooden blocks, tracks, straight and curved rails and various other accessories make marbles travel at different speeds and levels. Quadrilla is undoubtedly the ultimate marble run. Since all the tracks are horizontal, the marbles get their acceleration and speed exclusively from their way through the holes in the blocks.

From very simple to highly complex, only a child's imagination and creativity sets the limit to what can be created. An amazing fun product!

Age: 6+

Set comprises of:

98 pieces including nine curved and straight rails, 34 colour-coded blocks, a big twist, a red see-saw and 50 marbles.

Wedgits

Encourage endless experimentation and creativity, enabling a child to learn about size, pattern and spatial relationships by stacking, nesting, and wedging the shapes vertically or horizontally. The basic pyramidal design is a symmetrical alignment of five primary blocks using rhombus and octahedral shapes. Wee Wedgits is a five piece set of squeezezy, soft, non-toxic, polyvinyl blocks with rounded edges for younger children.

Junior Set integrates a total of 15 blocks, nested within each other forming a large diamond shape, whereas the pieces in the Starter Set are slightly larger and more suitable for smaller hands. Deluxe Set comes with two clear plastic storage stands, plus a booklet containing unique designs that include the famous Wedgits Jumping Frog. They are all compatible with each other.

Puzzles - addictive and challenging fun

Addict-A-Ball

To master the Addict-a-ball you must guide your ball through a huge array of challenges, through arches, down holes and vertical drops and over platforms, meaning you must twist and turn the ball up to 360 degree's in order to reach your goal. There are two versions available - the large has 138 numbered sections you have to work your way through, whilst the travel version has 100 numbered sections to conquer. A frustratingly addictive puzzle! Brilliant!

Baffle Ball £12.99

PG 11-04-00 Ex-VAT £10.83

Of all the puzzles in the world, Baffleball (initially produced by Remco in 1969 and known as 'Frustration Ball') has to be the most fiendish! Basically Baffleball is a clear perspex ball inside which there are eight cups. A smaller ball inside the main ball is then rolled in to the first cup through a hole in its side. The idea then is to rotate the Baffleball in such a way as to get the small ball to drop from one cup in to another in sequence until the ball eventually lands in the eighth cup. Although some of the cups are opposite each other, making it fairly easy to get the ball in, other cups are almost at right angles meaning that you have to get just the right twist of the ball at the right speed and inclination to flip the ball in to its destination.

One of the most challenging products we've ever come across! (And, no, we've not seen it done yet either!!) Age: 7+

Neon Pro Powerball

£24.99 Ex-VAT £20.83 SS 07-06-08

Inside the outer shell of a Powerball, is a perfectly balanced gyroscope. Once set in motion with the starter chord, the gyroscope forces in your hand are instantly felt. You then begin to increase the speed of the rotor by making wide circular motions with your wrist and the torque gradually increases to give your arm a completely dynamic work out. Six high intensity LED's glow when the ball is spinning and speeds are recorded by a digital counter, with the highest speed stored in memory. Speeds in excess of 15,000rpm are possible, making Powerball one of the fastest non-motorised devices on the planet. This is a physically challenging product that requires co-ordination and concentration, whether it is used for recreation or muscle development. Age: 14+

Ugly Dolls

Created by artists David Horvath and Sun-Min Kim, have been featured around the world in fashion boutiques like Barney's New York and stores such as the London Design Museum and Museum of Contemporary Art in LA. Although the hand-made plush dolls are loved by celebrity fans everywhere, what's really attractive about Ugly Dolls is that people can relate to them. Doesn't everybody know that it's not what's on the outside that matters but what's on the inside?

The Dragon Who Couldn't Do Dragony Things

£4.99 BK 05-00-23

Anni Axworthy

Little Dragon can't fly, can't breathe fire, can't scare anyone. Not very easy when you're a dragon - but Dragon does have one very surprising talent. A wonderful book for sharing friendship and love.

Mixed Up Fairy Tales

£6.99 BK 10-00-10

Hilary Robinson/ Nick Sharratt

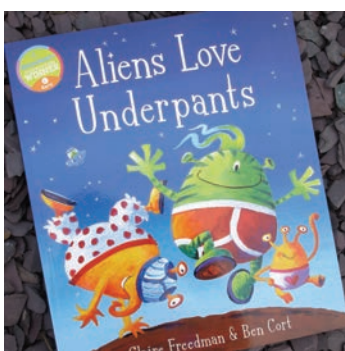

Fantastic split page book allows the reader to mix and match different combinations of fairy tales with hilarious results. What would happen if Goldilocks had two horrid stepsisters and fell asleep for a hundred years? Excellent for exploring narrative construction and great fun!

Aliens Love Underpants

£5.99 BK 08-00-05

Claire Freedman/Ben Cort

You probably thought aliens came down to Earth with a view to taking over the planet - but, no, they simply want to steal your pants! This zany, hilarious tale, is sure to enchant and amuse the whole family. With a madcap, rhyming text, this story is fantastically fresh and funny - you'll probably laugh your pants off!

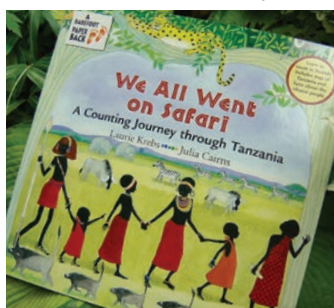

The Lion Who Wanted to Love

£5.99 BK 05-00-05

Giles Andreae/David Wojtowycz

Ends with the thought 'you have to be strong to be different'...and that is exactly what the lion in this story is! He is not like the traditional King of The Jungle but his need to be different and to love all animals pays off when they rescue him from a difficult situation. This book is set to be one of the all time favourites.

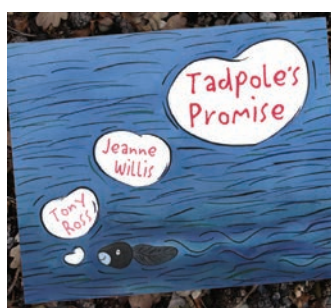

We All Went on Safari

£5.99 BK 05-00-00

Laurie Krebs/Julia Cairns

A wonderfully illustrated insight into the life of the Masai people in Tanzania. This book enables children to learn to count in Swahili, discover all types of African animals and understand the richness of other cultures.

Tadpoles Promise

£5.99 BK 10-00-12

Jeanne Willis/ Tony Ross

Tadpole loves his rainbow friend, the caterpillar. 'Promise that you will never change,' she says. But as the seasons pass and he matures, what happens to his beautiful friend? As he sits on his lily pad he will never know... An award winning picture book with an unexpected final gasp-making twist.

Full, Full, Full of Love

£5.99 BK 05-00-22

Trish Cooke

For Jay Jay, Sunday dinner at Grannies house is always full of hugs and kisses, full of tasty dishes, full to the brim with happy faces, full, full, full of love - a book of genuine warmth and affection and a celebration of traditional family values.

The Three Horrid Pigs

£5.99 BK 10-00-15

Liz Pichon

Mother Pig has had enough, so sends her three little ones on their way. The first two build houses by stealing straw and twigs. The third is so lazy, he moves into a hen house! What horrid little pigs they are! Will the big, friendly wolf help them to see the error of their ways? Just brilliant!

I Have Feelings

£6.99 BK 05-00-13

Jana Novotny Hunter

This is an essential book to use with very young children to explore feelings. Appealing illustrations and easy text enable the language of feelings to be introduced in a natural and positive way. This book became one of our favourites the moment we read it!

The Story Tree

£8.99 BK 05-00-08

Hugh Lupton/Sophie Fatus

This book is particularly suitable for under fives. Through seven energetic stories children encounter a range of emotions. Along the way they can be encouraged to think about the situations, their feelings and reactions.

WoZu Emotion Checkers

These colourful fans enable children and adults to make their own judgement about how they may be feeling or the progress they have made in their learning. They can be used to show the adult if help is needed on a task or if everything is going well. The fans provide immediate feedback and add a useful dimension to assessment during a session or activity. The Checkers are particularly successful when each learner has their own. This encourages children to take responsibility for their learning and helps them recognise the value of reflection and evaluation.
